BED & BREAKFAST

Upon arrival at Orange Hill Bed and Breakfast, you enter a cozy turn-of-the-century farmhouse, set in the middle of 50 acres of working farmland.

You leave the hustle of city life as hosts, Mark and Kay Russo, invite you to sit on the porch swing and watch the bluebirds nest on a beam or catch a glimpse of deer in the back field at dusk.

Start your morning with a hearty breakfast served in the dining room. When you are all relaxed and want to do some sightseeing you can visit Colonial Williamsburg, Jamestown, Yorktown or the area's many Civil War sites.

Many beautiful Plantation homes are nearby along scenic Route 5. Shop at the Williamsburg Pottery and other Outlet stores. Also nearby you will find horse racing, fishing, hunting and several golf courses.

Orange Hill has three upstairs bedrooms:

The Holdcroft Room, spacious and romantic, is furnished with a queen sized brass bed and antique furniture. It has a three-sided view of the fields.

The Charles City Room is a cozy, cheery room with a double four-poster bed – perfect for one or two people. It adjoins the bath to the Chickahominy Room.

The Chickahominy Room overlooks the large maple tree in the back of the house. It has an antique iron queen sized bed.

There is fine dining for lunch or dinner at area restaurants or plan your own picnic under the maple tree in the back yard.

A refrigerator is available.
